

ABSTRACT

A combined set comprising a load transfer platform and a carriage

5 A combined set, comprising a load transfer platform and a carriage for enabling a movement of said platform, said combined set comprising lift up means provided for lifting up and taking down said platform between an elevated position and a rest position, said carriage being removably applicable under said platform, said combined set further comprises a header unit provided for storing said carriage, said
10 header unit being provided for being connected to a tractor and comprises first connecting means co-operating with second connecting means applied on said platform for connecting said header and said platform during said movement of said platform when applied on said carriage.

Figure 1.

10018784-123101